To Robin.

My three years in central have been even more meaningful because of the beautiful friendship I found in you. Words cannot express the memories I shall cherish of our beautiful friendship in our days at Central. You are a very warm, sensitive, and beautiful person. One who has meant and will always be a very special part of me. Stay the way you are and I'll be your friend forever. If you change I'll still be your friend for you could only change for the better. I don't need to tell you to remember me because I'll never let you forget me.

Love always

1mon·tage \män-'täzh\ n [F, fr. monter to mount] 1 : a composite picture made by combining several separate pictures 2 : a literary, musical, or artistic composite of juxtaposed more or less heterogeneous elements 3 : the production of a rapid succession of images in a motion picture to illustrate an association of ideas

2montage vt : to combine into or depict in a montage

We, the members of the HOURGLASS staff, have chosen MONTAGE as our theme. MONTAGE means flashbacks, a series of pictures from the past.

We have chosen MONTAGE because as we stand on the threshold of leaving Central, we cannot help but remember the good and bad times which will become a part of our past. While we strive to achieve our goals in the years to come, the flashbacks will be plentiful, and full of our youthful, carefree days at Central.

A MONTAGE is usually best created in pictures of things which we are most likely to remember always. We have tried to find pictures that represent the past and present of Central in its many different aspects.

Just as each of us is unique, we have tried to capture this quality of individuality in our edition of HOURGLASS 74.

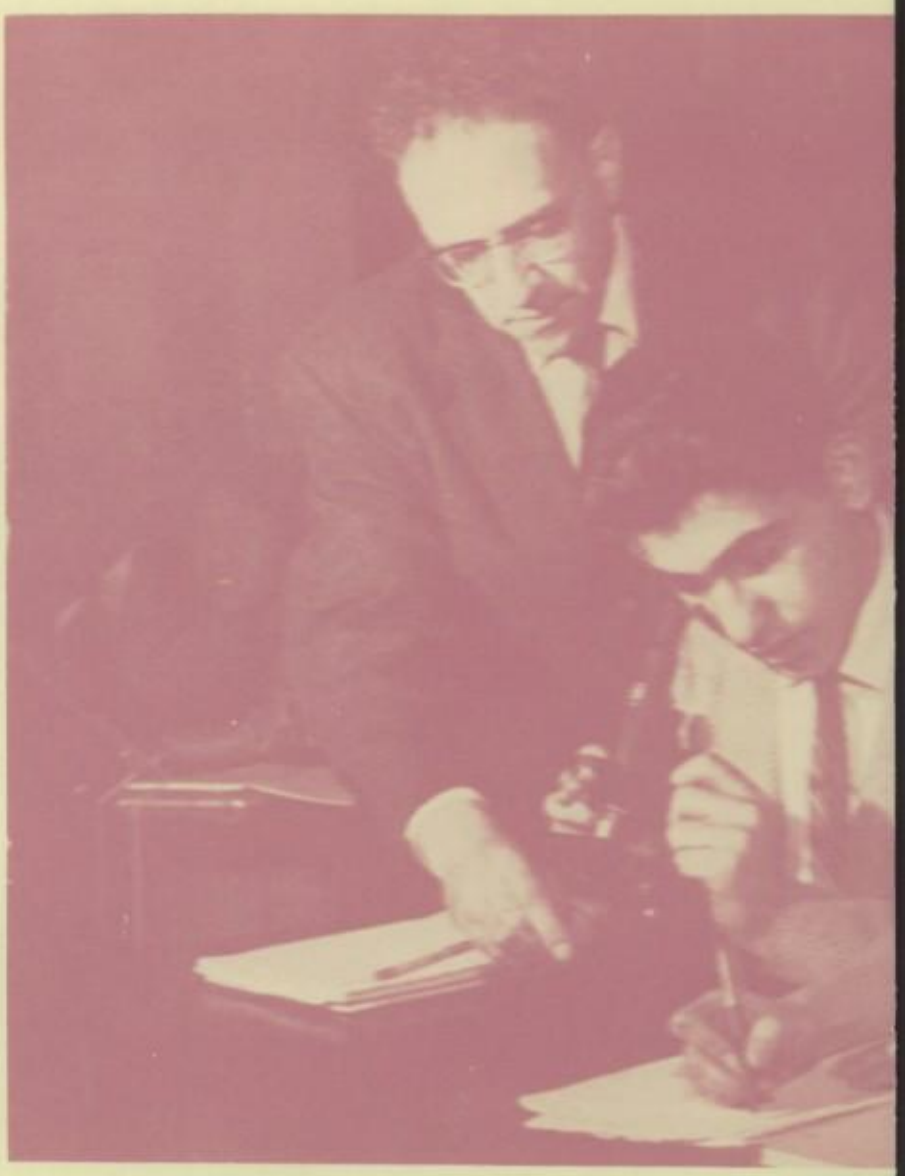
SOUL

CE TRAL COMMERCIAL



Hey Robin this is me, but what are you doing?

← ME, me who?

Dear Seniors:

MONTAGE - your theme for HOURGLASS 74 - evokes scenes that tumble over one another in my mind's eye. Somehow, even though I have been a participant, I see myself as a spectator and you as the stars.

I can envision you in our shabby-looking auditorium at various points in time that seem to intermingle: youngsters filling out forms with a bemused look, in May before your admission to Central; new entrants listening to advice from speakers in September, half-earnest and half-skeptical in your demeanor: students cheering candidates at a G. O. election, watching a performance on our cramped stage or sitting in quiet sympathy at a memorial service for one of your teachers; and Seniors arguing, questioning and laughing while you plan your activities for the year.

I conjure up clear but shifting views of you against a variety of backdrops, as you work in classrooms, chatter away in the outer yard or Annex lunchroom, perform like professionals in a dance or chorus, debate school issues in the Consultave Council or the G. O. office, and fling yourself joyously through the doors at dismissal. There are individual close-ups of many of you as well, talking to me in my office, sometimes pleased, sometimes upset, sometimes relaxed, sometimes ill at ease. And just ahead there is a grand finale at Carnegie Hall where as if by cinematic magic, the children that you were in your first days at Central are now men and women, tall and brave in your youth and majestic in your caps and gowns.

But this is not illusion, this is reality; as Oscar Wilde said, this is nature copying art. Besides, I am more than a spectator, for whether we like it or not, we have become a part of each other. I cannot speak for any of you, but for myself, I know that you have established your place irrevocably in the MONTAGE of my memory.

With fond recollection,

Simpson Sasserath

The Future Secretaries Association, Gertrude M. Kufahl Chapter, is an honary association in Secretarial Studies sponsored by the National Secretaries Association International.

Through the guidance of experienced secretaries, the F.S.A. stimulates interest in the secretarial profession, develops a better understanding of its responsibilities, as well as providing career information.

The goals of our Association include:

ASSOCIATION with professionals and other students of common interests;

DESIRE to attain professional competence through a continuing educational program after graduation or entering the business world;

PARTICIPATION in thought-provoking programs developed by interested professionals;

ENTHUSIASM for a more rewarding secretarial career;

IDENTIFICATION with the business world;

SUPPLEMENTATION of classwork with practical knowledge.

All of these goals will enable members of the F.S.A. to attain success as a professional secretary and prepare for their responsibilities.

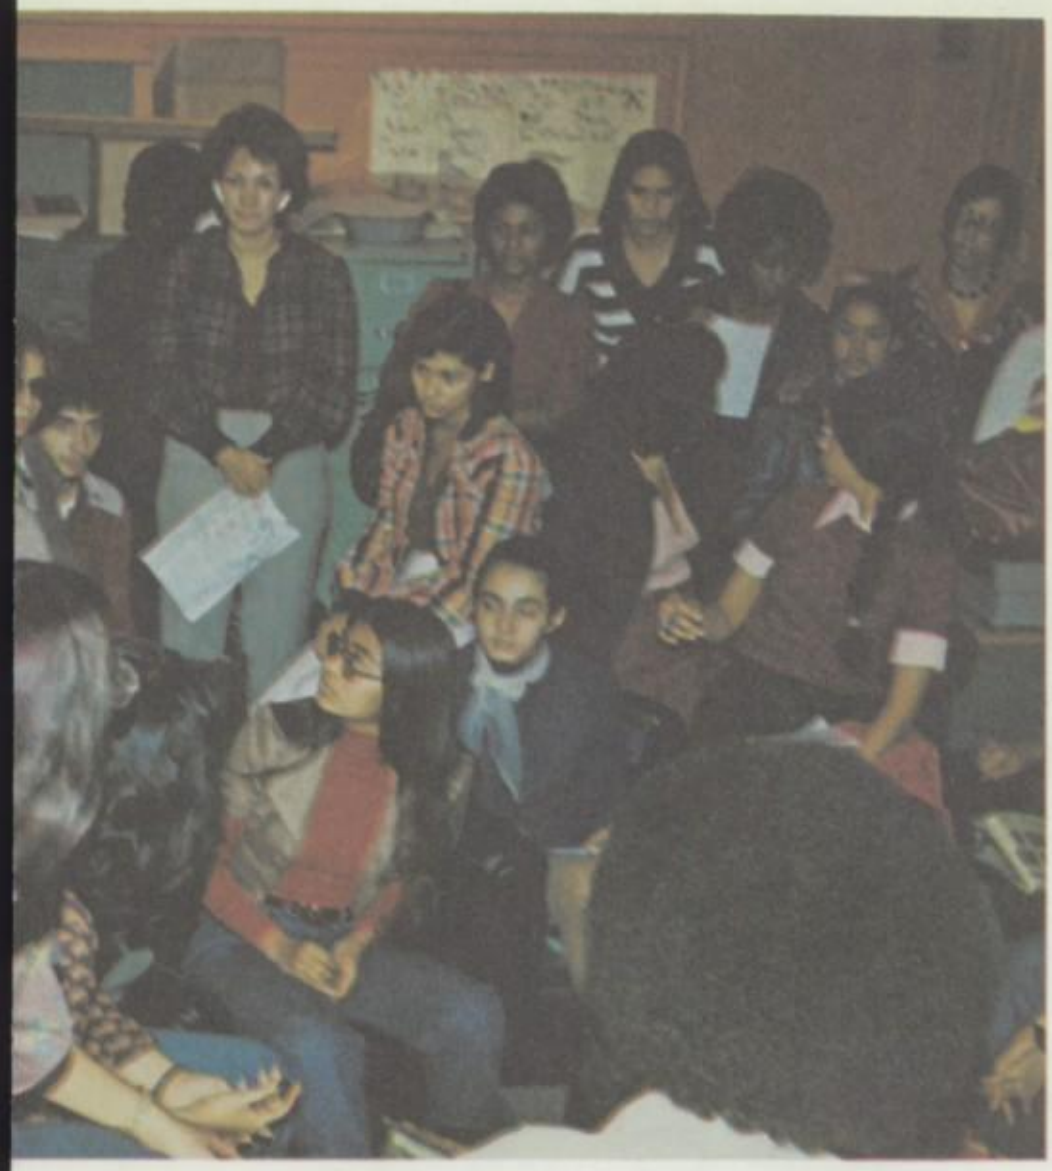
QUE VIVA BORINGUEM



El club Aspira, bajo el liderato de Terence Tenny, cumple la tarea de unir y resolver los problemas de nuestros companeros Centralistas especialmente aquellos de origen hispano.

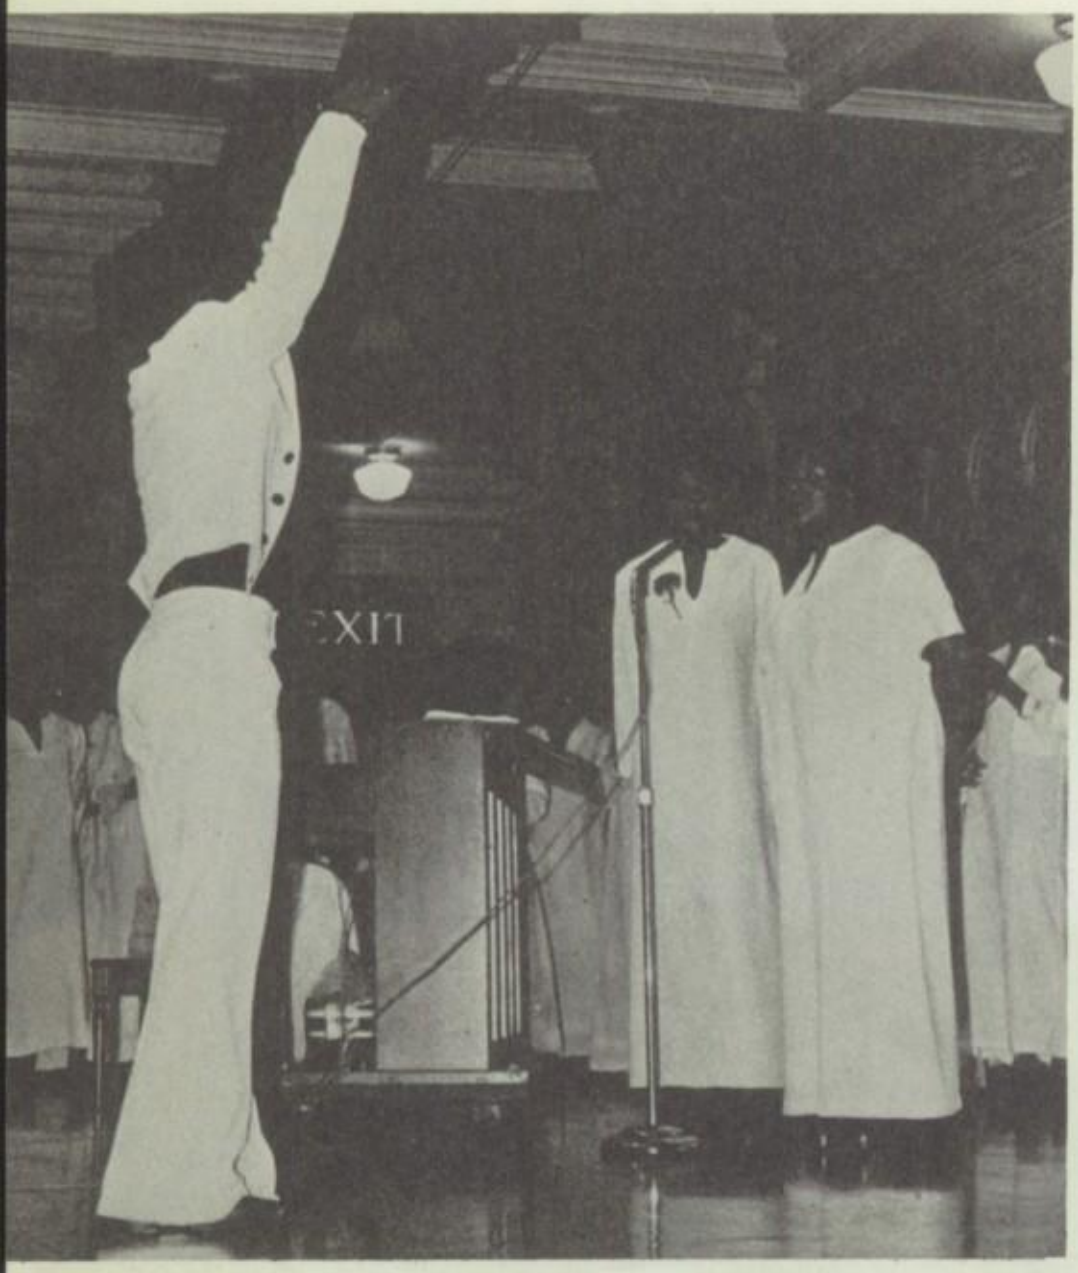
Entre las muchas actividades del club son los festivales anuales desplegando los diferentes aspectos de la cultura latina. El club tambien auspicia oportunidades para obtener becas para continuar su educacion universitaria, tambien proporciona consejo a todo alumno que lo necesite.

ASPIRA

"El Pitirre"

The ASPIRA Club, under the direction of Terence Tenny has the goal of uniting and resolving the problems of its fellow Centralites, especially those of Spanish decent.

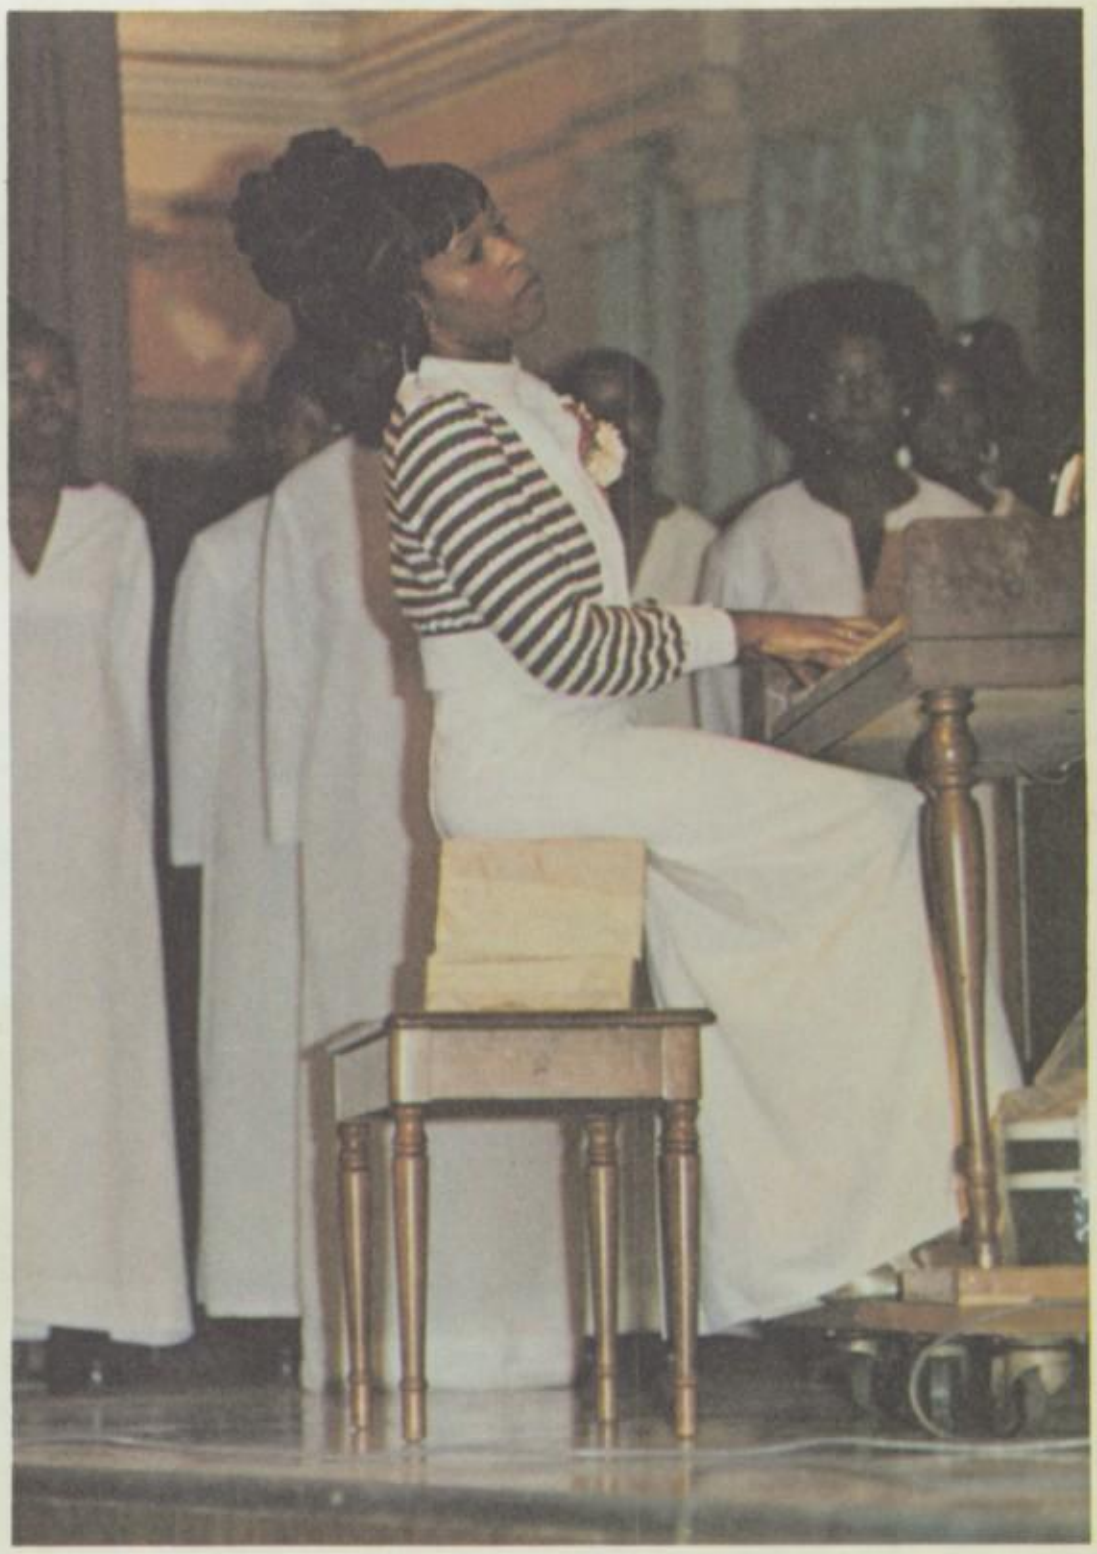
Among the many activities of the club is its yearly Festival showing the many different aspects of Latin culture. It also sponsors scholarship opportunities for those interested in continuing their education. Some of the other guidance services that it offers throughout its borough centers are family counseling, a rehabilitation program and community information.

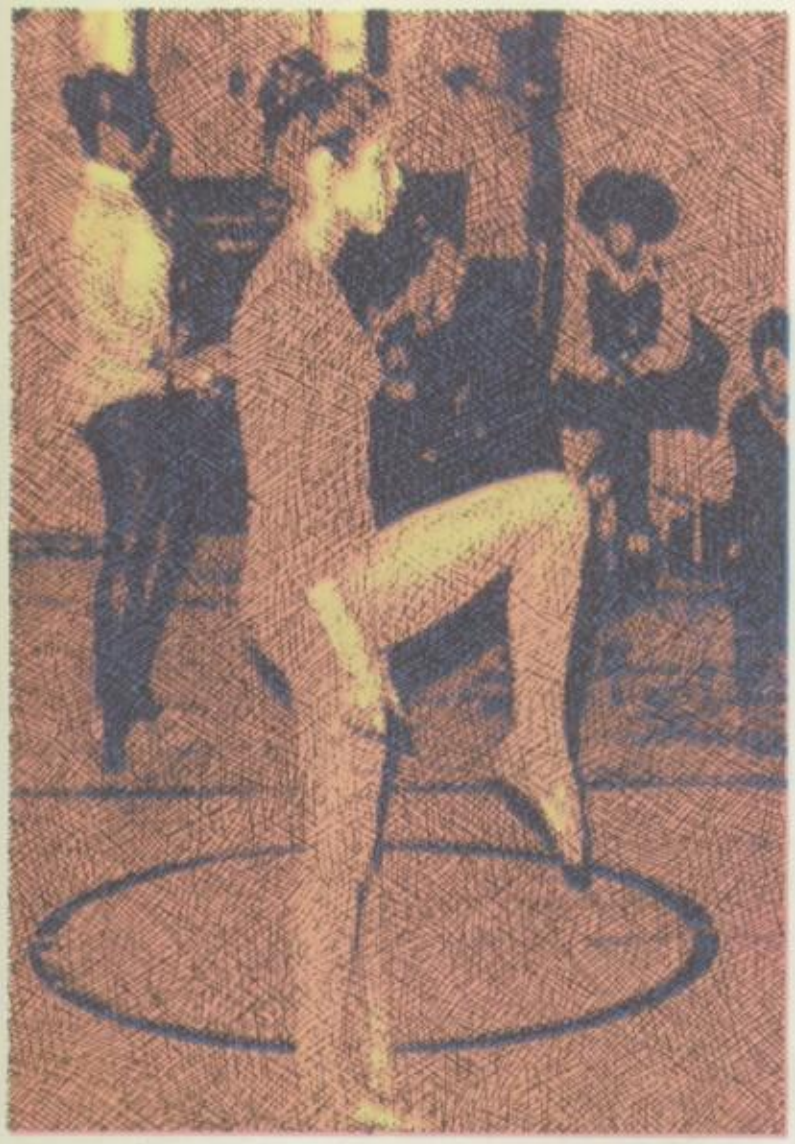


The Gospel Choir

The Gospel Choir, under the co-direction of Ms. Rosemary Canty and Herbert Bennett, can be heard loud and clear everyday during the 7th period.

The Gospel Choir gives entertainment which motivates not only Central Commercial students, but audiences at performances in concerts throughout the city.





This year's Modern Dance Group, under the direction of Delores Vanison, was a big part of the Black Festival.

But all the beauty on the following pages comes from many long hours of rehearsal, at night in that cold gym.

It's worth it to us, but is it to them? Anyway, they look happy!

BLACK

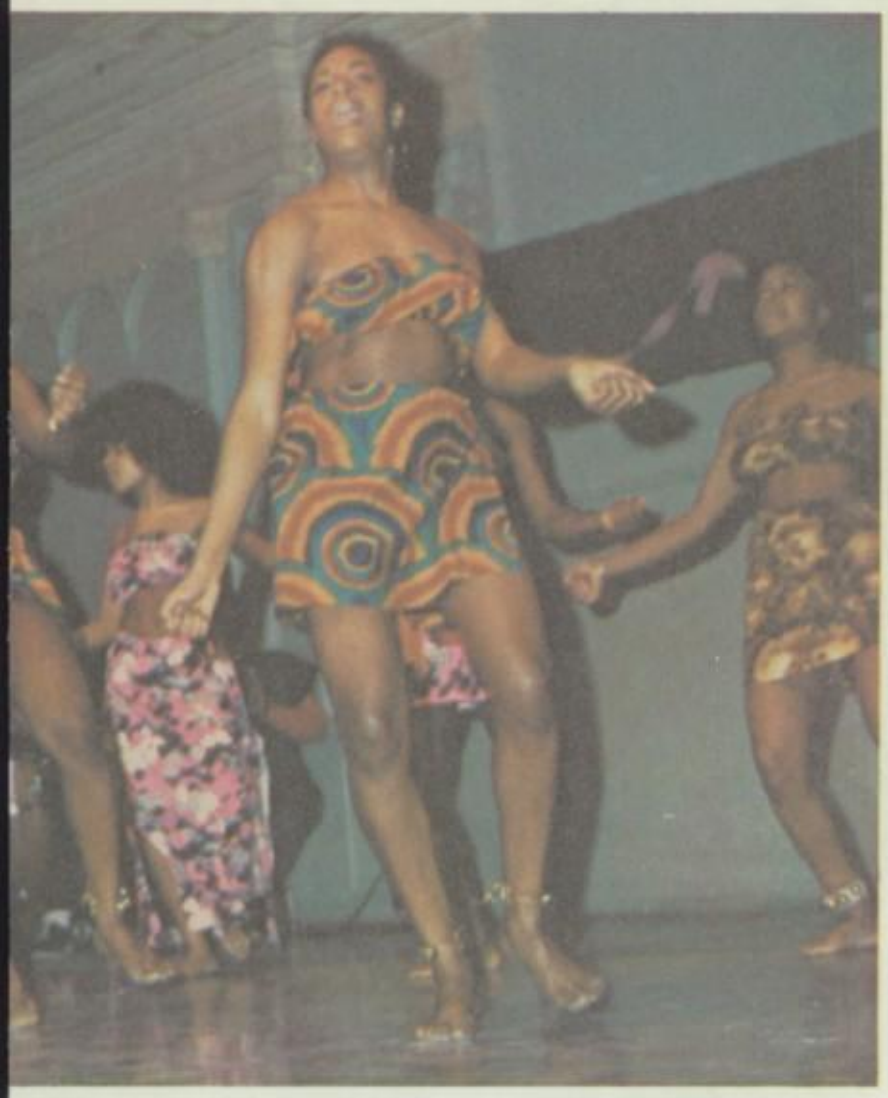
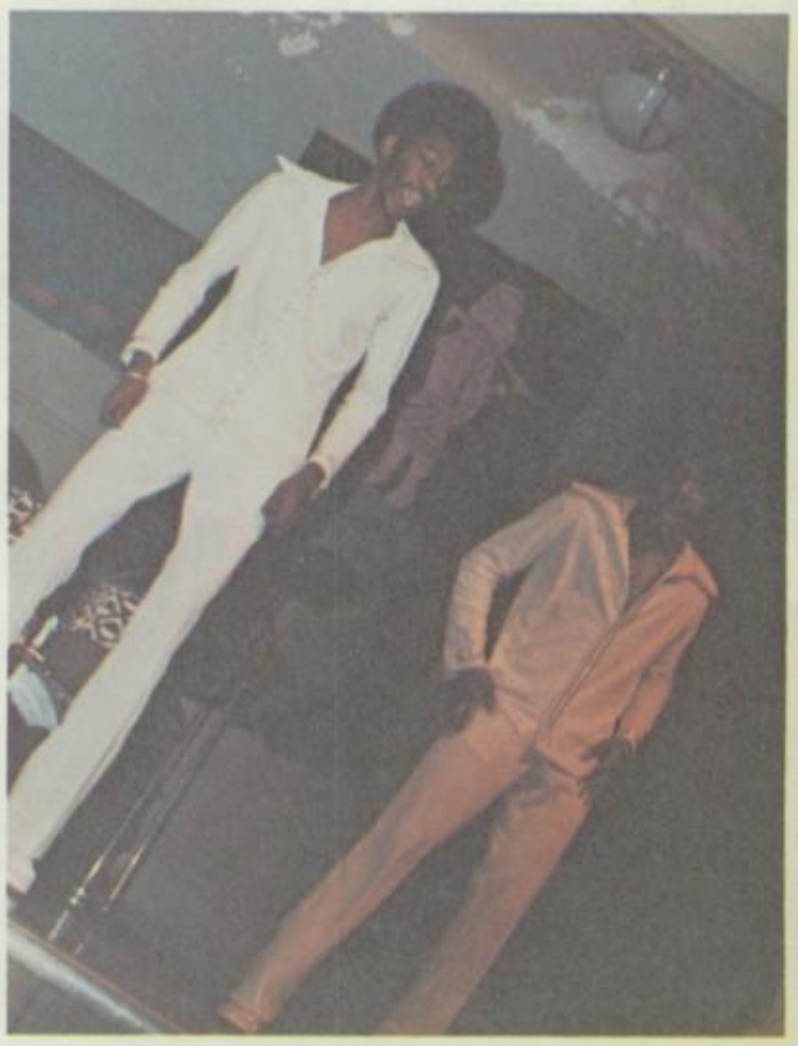
Stanley Schiff and his drummers.





The Black Festival is a proud display of heritage and an introduction to others of the essence of being Black.

There was a wide display of a variety of foods on sale as well as educational literature, and cultural information of value to all Centralites.

After the nourishing part of the festival, we went down to the auditorium for a soulful experience. The Afro-Latin Dance Group, under the direction of Stanley Schiff and with members of Ms. Vanison's Modern Dance Group as well, performed excellently.

Other performers were Dorothy Billings and The Reasons Why, who closed the show with a party going on!

Christmas Show

Anyone passing by the auditorium during this year's Christmas Show might guess that a laughing gas had been released.

Central's annual Christmas Show is rapidly becoming the highlight of the holiday season. A brilliantly done play was performed by the teachers who were brave enough to show they are just as crazy as the students themselves.

The climax of the show was the appearance of biracial Santa Clauses played by Mr. Sasserath and Mr. Lovell, and the reading of "The Night Before Christmas" revised for the occasion by Mr. Barocas. Those students who sat through the entire show truly deserved a vacation!

STUDENT

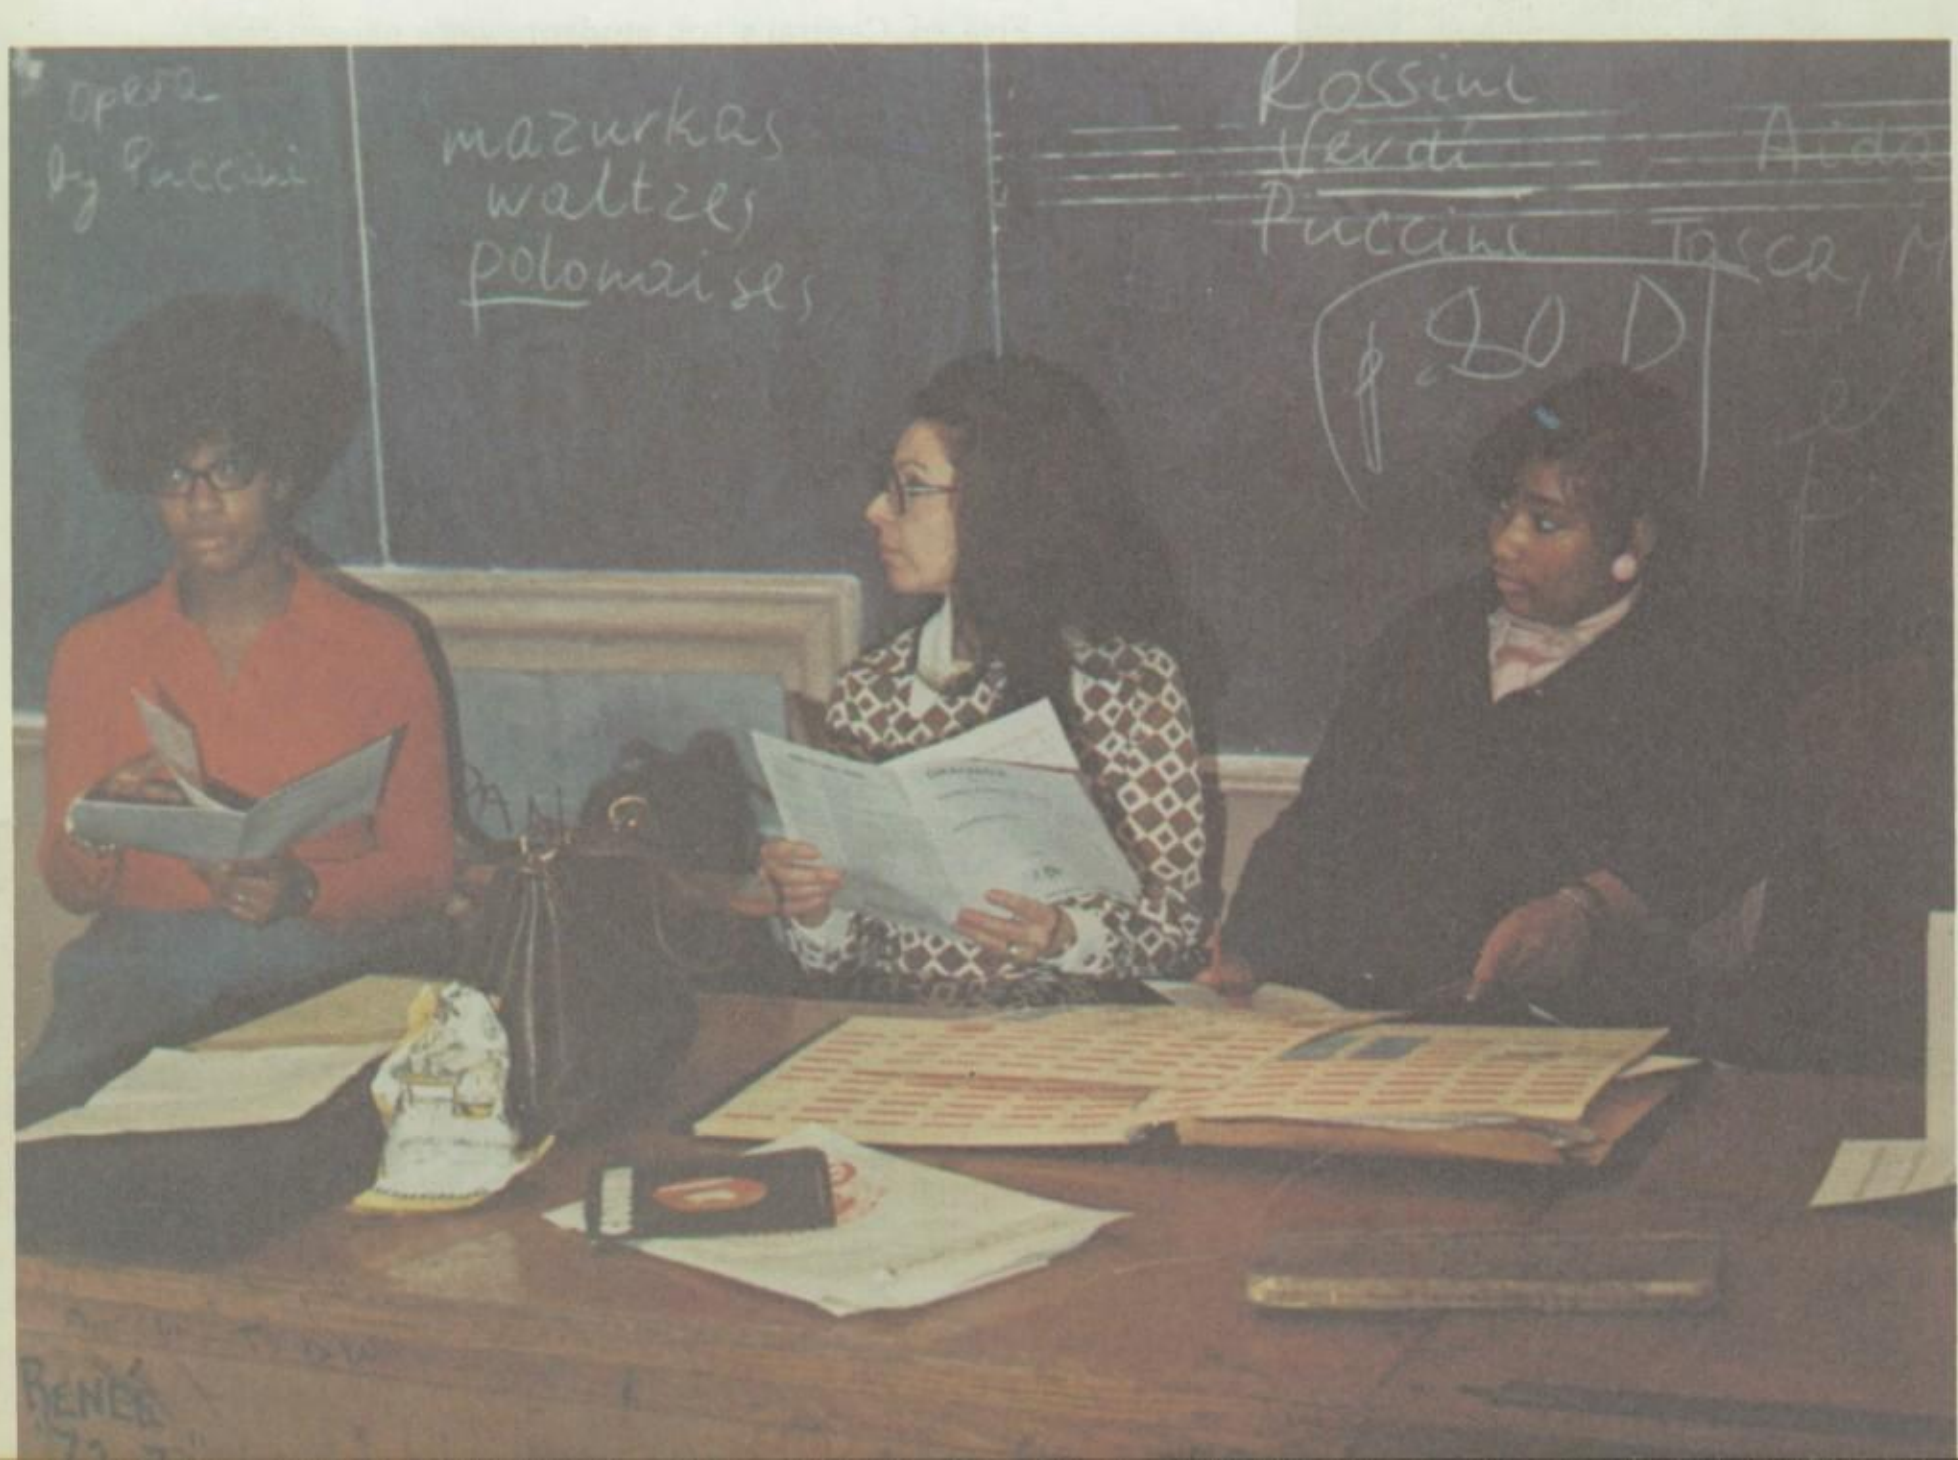
Glee Club

Central Commercials Glee Club, conducted by Michelle August meets every day during the seventh period.

They learn musical techniques, and are quite accomplished at old standards and modern songs.

All of their training is not merely for their own enjoyment but also in preparation for the day when they will sing for the Seniors at Carnegie Hall.



Chancellor's Honor Roll

Five of Central's top students were chosen this year for election to the Chancellor's Honor Roll. These students are singled out for outstanding achievement in scholarship and/or service to their school. The awards were made at a special assembly presided over by Mr. Sasserath who presented the students with certificates issued by the Chancellor's office. Ms. Dorothy Billinger also sang for the group.

The students chosen to be honored were, from left to right: Herbert Bennett
Mary Rozza
Nereida Rodriguez
Gayle Williams
Mustaque Nasir

Honor Society

To be a member of the Honor Society it is required that you have an 85 average for three consecutive terms and a good citizenship standing.

The Honor Society is very involved in special activities. On March 20, 1974, they had a cake sale with the proceeds going to help Hale House, a federally funded house for children whose mothers were drug addicted.

They prove with this and similar activities, such as their Book Sale, that scholarship and service go hand in hand.

Barbara Morris is the current Honor Society faculty advisor.

Future Business Leaders

Future Business Leaders of America is a national organization for students who are interested in the business world. In Central it is largely composed of students in the Bookkeeping and Distributive Education fields who are concerned with making a career in the business world.

Some of the activities that they engage in are trips to various corporations, country clubs, and competitive events that help to prepare them for their future career choices.

The club is directed by Central's bookkeeping brothers, Steven and Malcolm Ober. The success of their leadership of the organization is apparent from the size of the club.

DECA

The Central Commercial Chapter of The Distributive Education Clubs of America participates in statewide conventions and competitions and has always done well. This year, we were presented with 10 awards at the state convention held in upstate New York.

The club is advised by Frank Gluberman, and is devoted to promoting the ideals of good salesmanship, marketing, and high business ideals for the students who eventually graduate from Central and enter the business world.

Central's fledgling Basketball varsity had a rough season its first PSAL competitive year, but it showed the seeds of future success.

Led by Lonnie Mackey, captain, and coached by Norman Dolch, the team was often plagued by bad luck but did win some important games as reported below on December 12, 1973.

'An Upset and a Half'

Central Commercial lost its first Manhattan PSAL B game by 20 points. The second time around was an 18-point loss. And yesterday Central was losing to Chelsea by 18 points with four minutes left in the game. Chelseat coach Bob Defeo yawned, put in his second string and told his starters to get dressed. With 27 seconds left the Chelsea starters were ripping off their clothes — the 18-point lead was only five (99-94) and they had to go back to work.

Two steals and a missed one-and-one later Central's Earle Joe was driving the length of the court for a lay-up and a 100-99 Central win, Chelsea's first league loss.

"An upset and a half," said Central coach Norm Dolch. "I guess Defeo learned a lesson."

Joe's 36 points led Central but Chelsen's Gary Hooker lod all scorers with 51.

Karate Club

The Karate Club consists of nearly forty girls, only a few willing to be photographed in their gi's. Obviously, the boys at Central don't need to learn the art of self-defense!

Rafael Santos and Tony Mas are the Centralite instructors. Both these young men were trained by George Koshin, a fourth degree black belt, of the Ye Lin style.

The students first learn the basic stretching and fundamental exercises before progressing to the different forms and stances required for mastery of the art.

The purpose of Karate training is more than just to learn to defend oneself, however. The discipline and dedication required enable students of the art to approach other parts of their life with a vitality and drive that ensure success. Along with the hard physical training, the students are taught some Oriental philosophy - particularly the difficult lesson of avoiding trouble!

The Leaders Club

The Leaders Club is a primarily afternoon session club that is advised by Frances Carpenter. The club comes under the auspices of the Health Education Department, and is devoted to promoting leadership among students through the use of the physical skills they learn. They meet every day to discuss their interests, and spend some evenings in the gymnasium as well.

Ms. Carpenter is also the advisor of the Peer Group Counseling Program in the school, and several of the club members are involved in that activity.

The Department of Music and Art has given Central a great deal of pleasure.
As well as increasing our imaginative ability, the Art Department has given us a chance to express ourselves creatively.
The Music Department adds to this enjoyment by teaching us a wide variety of skills and songs and does a beautiful job in stressing music appreciation and musical performance.

The Math Department encourages the students to draw conclusions from observations and enriches this satisfaction by helping us realize the connection one problem has to another, after no little difficulty on all our parts.

In this age of technology and computers, Science plays a very important role in man's life. Our Science Department motivates the students to discover the wonders of science by showing up-to-date films and teaching them discovery methods that will enable the student to discover things for himself. Through this means, our Science Department makes science an engrossing and invaluable study.

centralite student news

no 7

March 29, 1974

The Centralite Student News is the Central pipeline into what's happening in our school.

It gives us detailed information on changes that will affect us and also lets us hear the opinions of our fellow students along with stories, poems, puzzles, and art work that entertains us.

The staff includes: Arlene Alvarez, Editor-in-Chief: John Shannon and Susan Rastella, Associate Editors; Ossie Rowe, Gloria Bass, Ramona La Roche, Reporters; Doreen Lee, Lilyvette Rodriguez, Gayle Williams, Shannon Barnes, Typists; Noel Flemming, Art Work; and Advisor James Lovell, Coordinator of Student Activities.

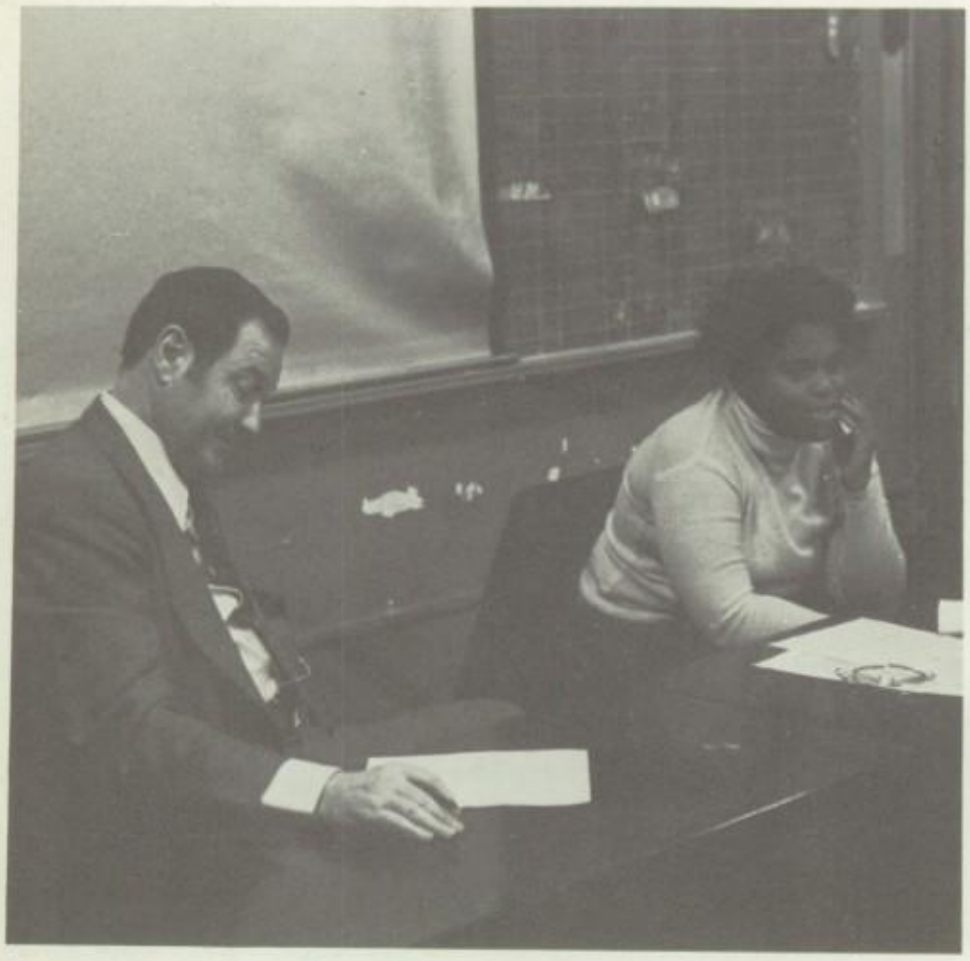
The General Organization is the largest student group at Central, drawing its membership from all grade levels, sessions, and the Annex. It provides the organizational capacity to plan and supervise school-wide and interschool activities such as dances, trips and boat rides.

This year's G.O. election was organized as a project of the Leadership classes. It included a party system and campaign period. G.O. faculty advisor, Ross Bloomfield, handled the administration of the election assemblies, including the decorations of the auditorium, to provide a real political atmosphere.

When all the ballots were finally counted, the election results were:

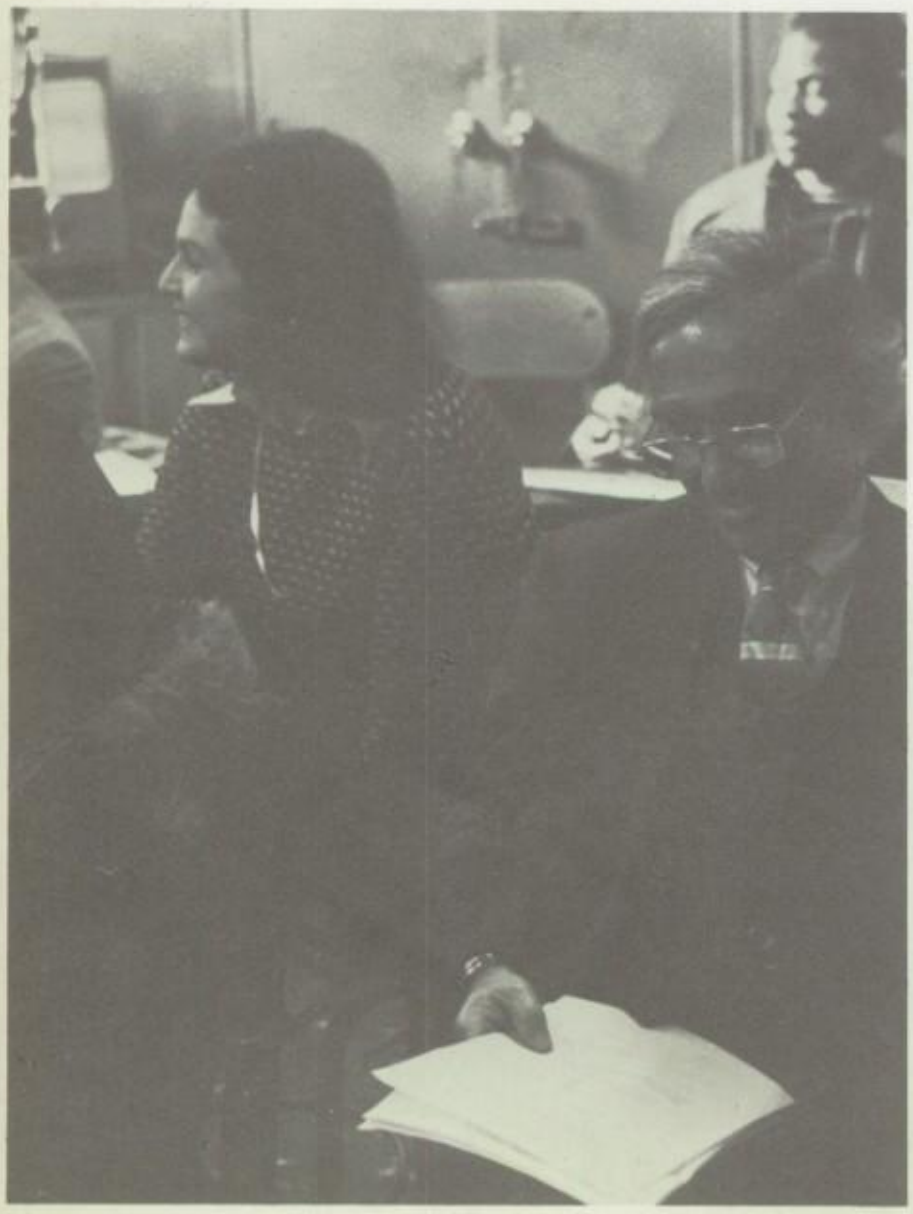
Herbert Bennett, President
Lois Campbell, Vice President, AM
Patricia Baker, 1st Vice President, PM
Carmen Rivera, 2nd Vice President, PM
Brian Draper, Treasurer

Consultative Council

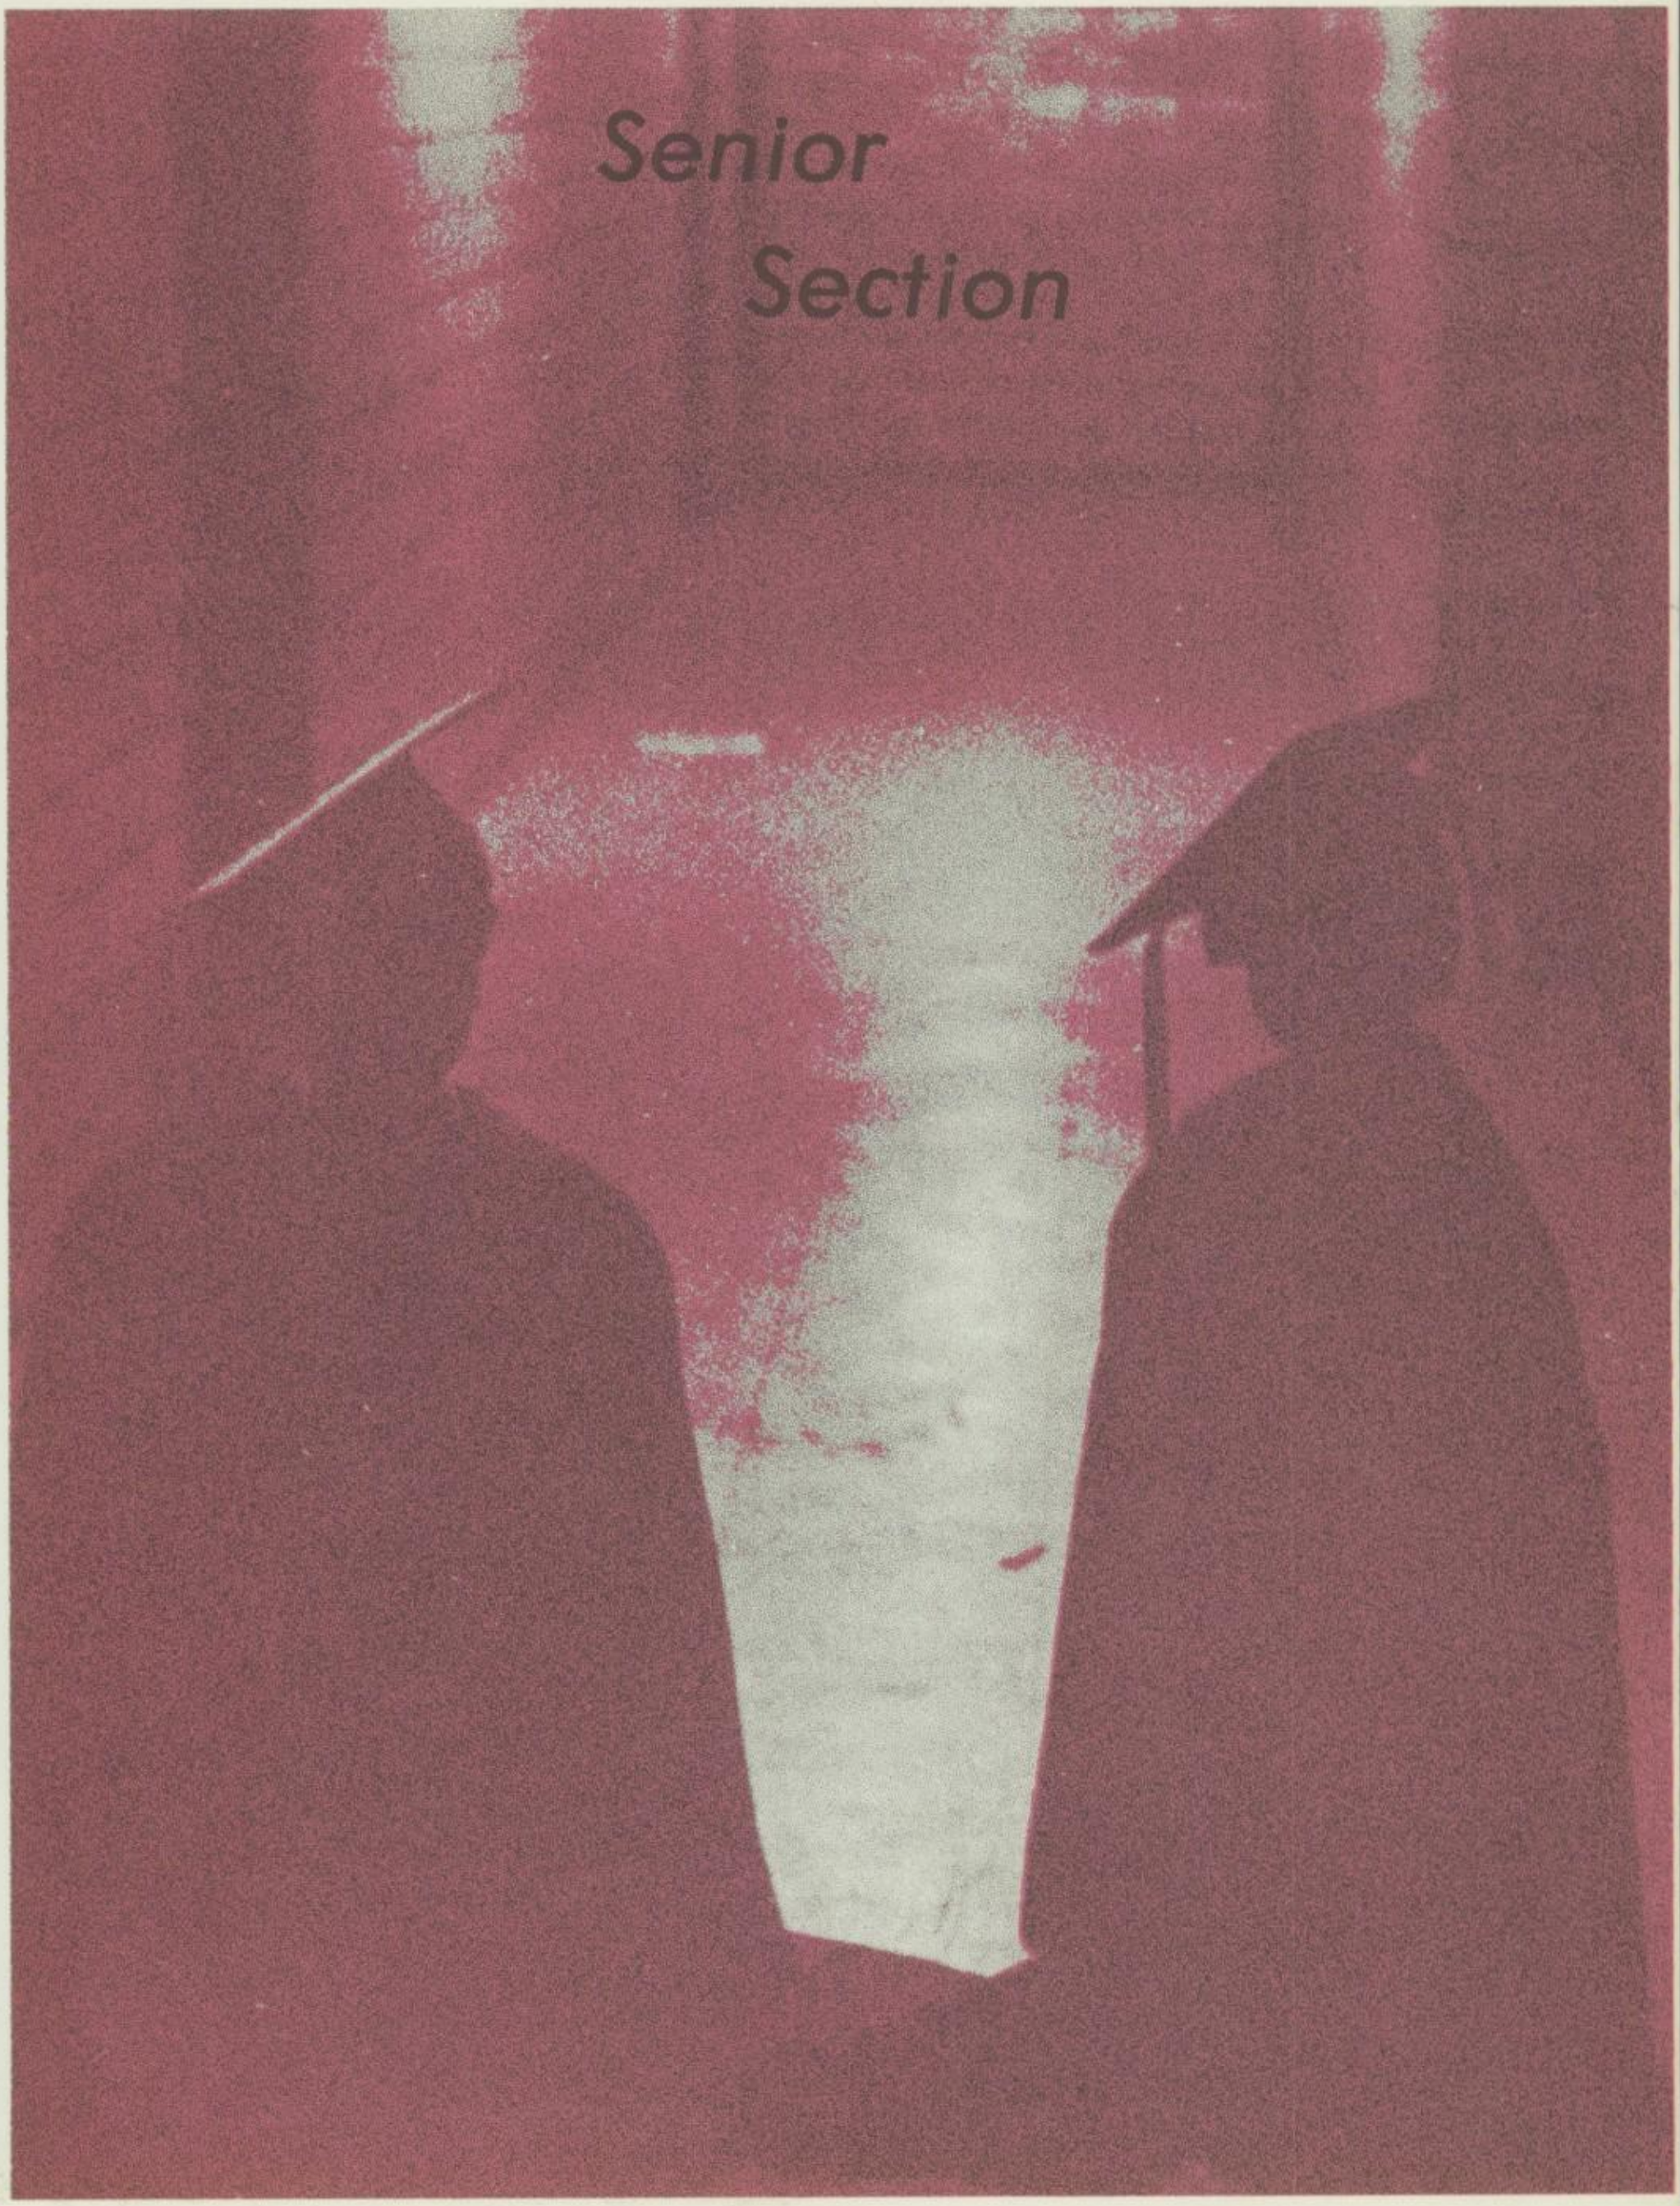


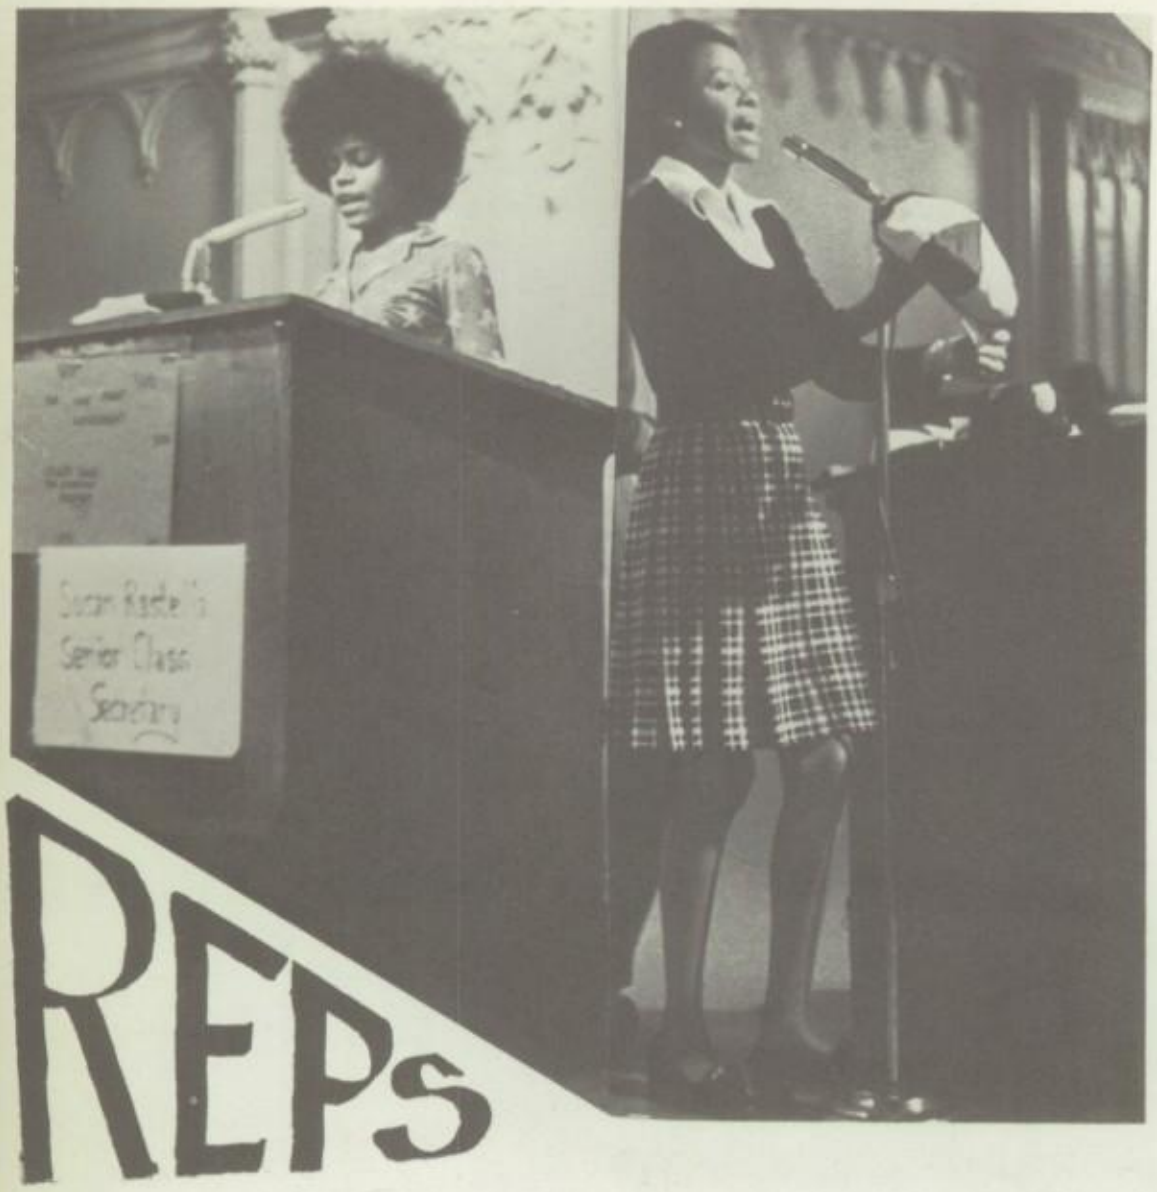
The Consultative Council is a group of students, faculty members, administrators, and our principal whose job it is to work on current problems of the Central Community. While they have no legislative powers per se, they do have the power of public opinion, and their recommendations are respected and considered in issues of school-wide importance.

The problems that are referred to the Council are usually discussed in multi-partisan committees. This practice enables representatives of all the constituencies of the school to voice their group's concensus. Mr. Sasserath often uses this body as a sounding board for changes in policy and practice that will affect us all.



Senior Section





REPs

The Senior Class Representatives are the hard-working group of people who maintain the lines of communication between the graduating class and their officers and advisors.

Meeting every Tuesday in Room 302 under the co-direction of Celeste Ward, Class President, and Lenza McSulla, Senior Advisor, they help plan the activities that make the Senior year a student's most exciting one at Central.

Representatives act as both counselors and couriers of the Senior Class.

Being a Senior Rep. is no easy job, but it has its rewards. Each Senior Rep. can look back at graduation with the proud knowledge that if it were not for the thankless work they do throughout the school year, many of their classmates would not know where Carnegie Hall was, let alone have a cap and gown to wear there!

The other officers of the 1974 Graduating Class were: Gloria Calhoun - Vice President
Deborah Gibbs - Secretary
Patricia Howard - Treasurer

PUERTO

January 24, 1974 saw 52 students and 9 teachers leave on a week long Senior Class trip to Puerto Rico.

Aside from having fun partying and sunning, the students went on many tours of the island. These trips enabled the travellers to gain a knowledge of the island's rich culture and history, as well as its nightlife and climate.

The excursions included trips to Ponce, El Yunque, Luquillo Beach, and El Viejo San Juan besides the Condado resort area. Some of the folks even squeezed in a day of shopping and sightseeing on St. Thomas, a short plane hop away.

As you can tell from the photos, the scenes, activities, and the natives (?) were diverse. They all led to the same place though,—exhaustion!!

Ski Trip

This year the Senior Class of 1974 attended a ski trip to The Granit Hotel in Kerhonkson, New York. It was a weekend trip which included 198 students and 14 chaperones.

There were several activities available. Among them were skiing, snowmobiling, skating, swimming, tennis, sledding, and horseback riding. It was a worthwhile experience, and but for the fact that nobody slept for three days, everyone enjoyed themselves.

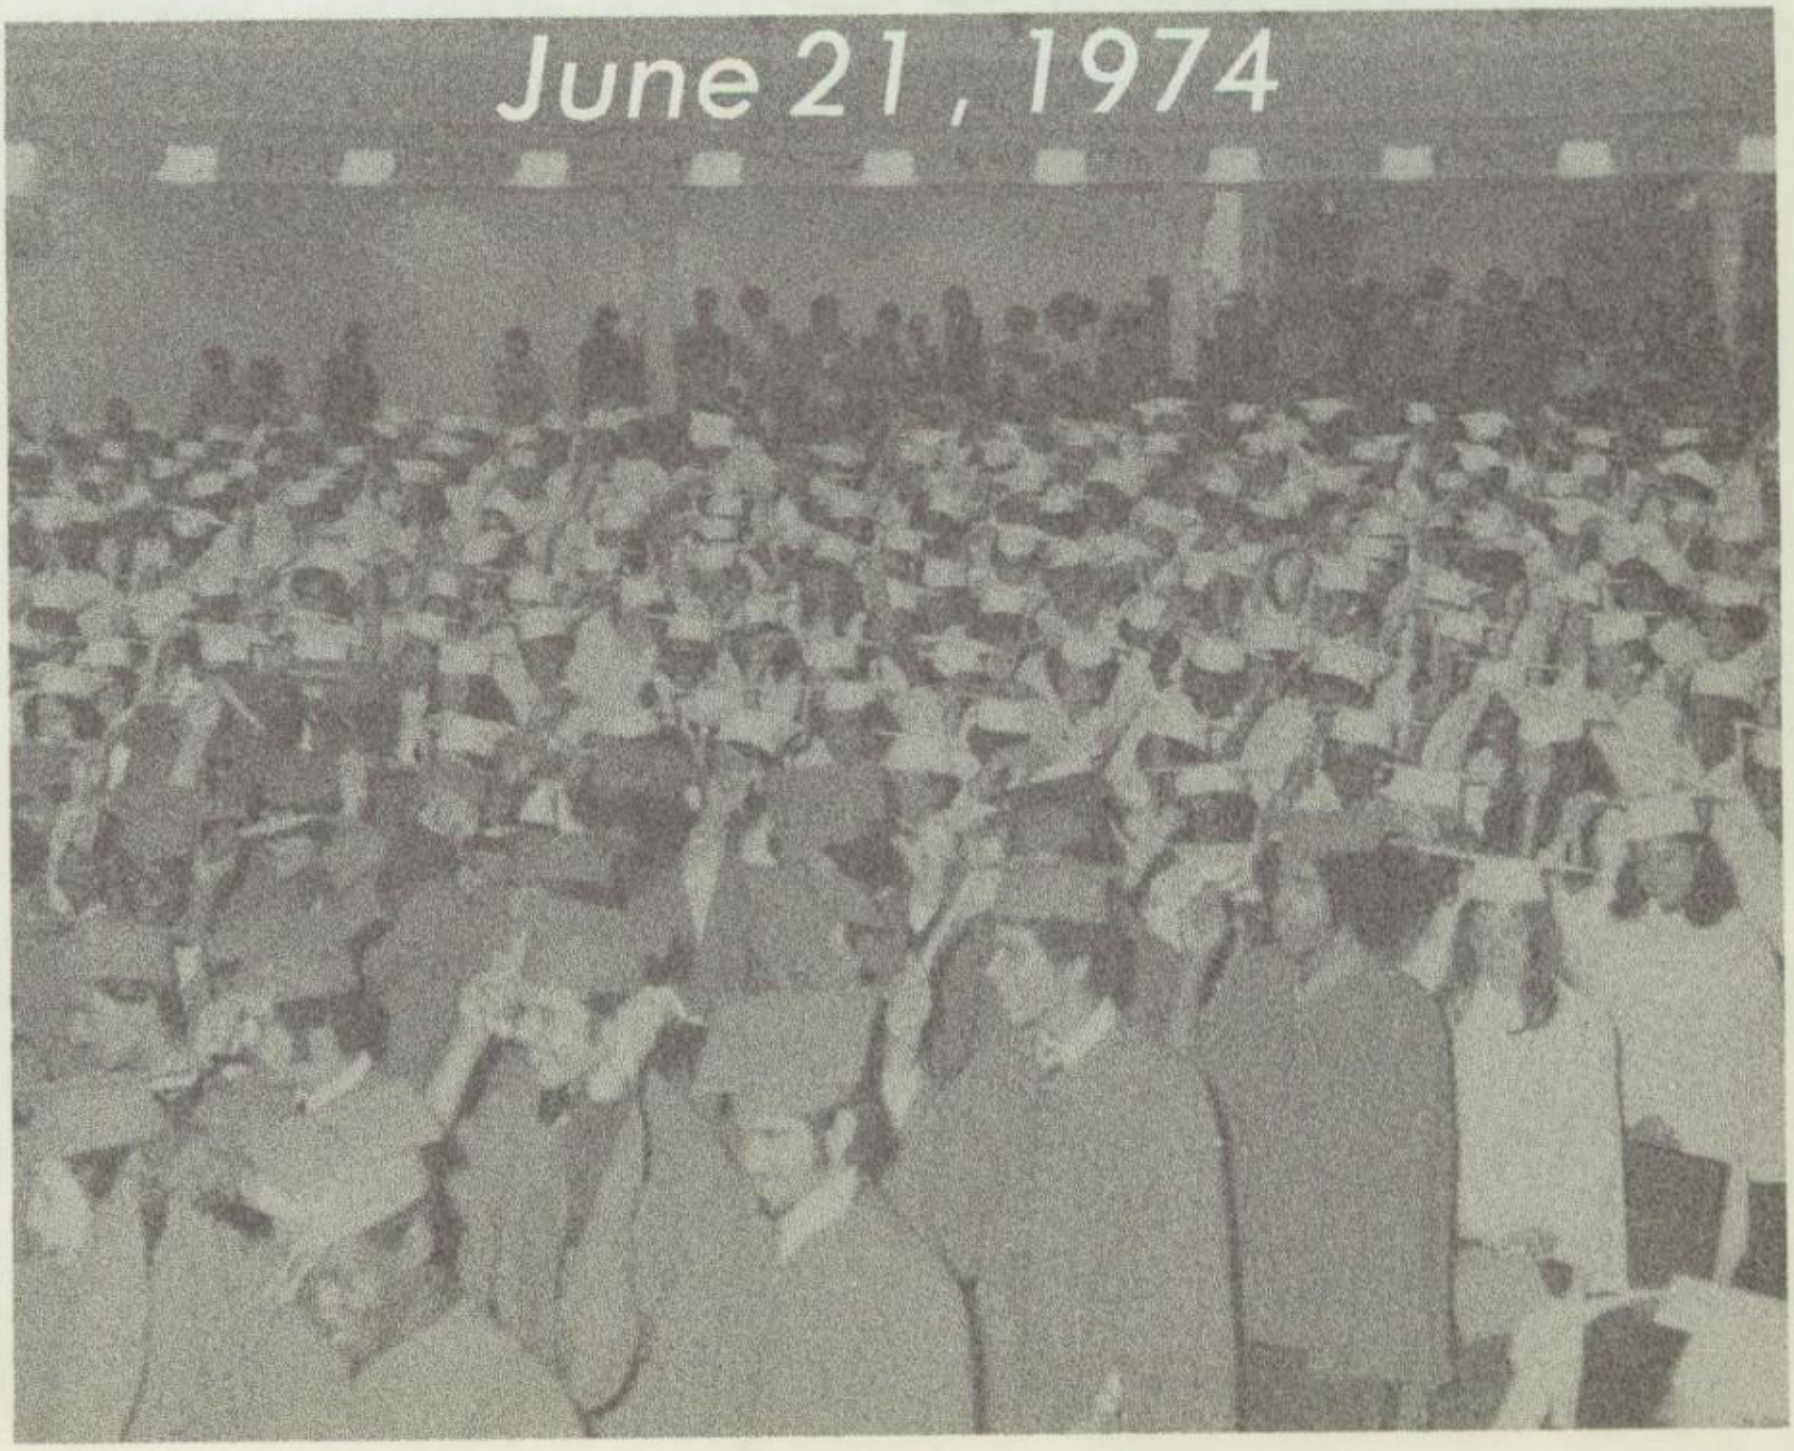
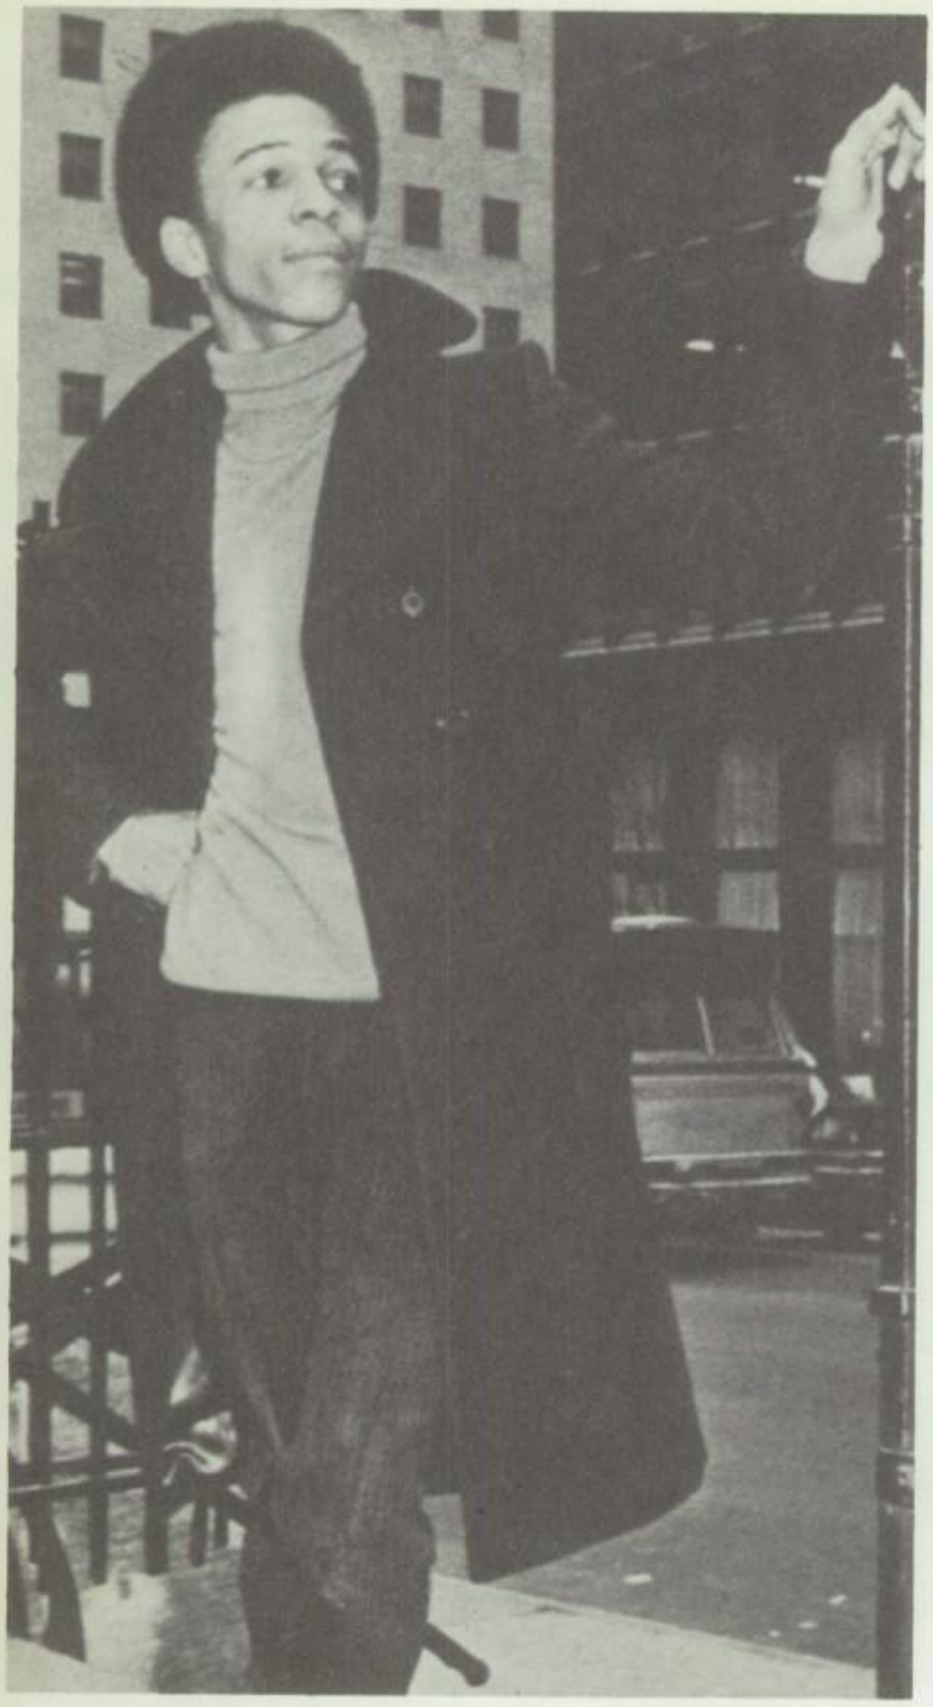
June 21, 1974





This page is dedicated to the memory of Gary Graham.

Gary graduated from Central in 1971. He was a very popular young man who was voted the Best Dressed male in that year's Senior Class. He was an open friendly boy who got along well with all his classmates.

Gary was very interested in the fashion world and wanted to model and design clothes.

We all regret that one so young and ambitious had to leave us.

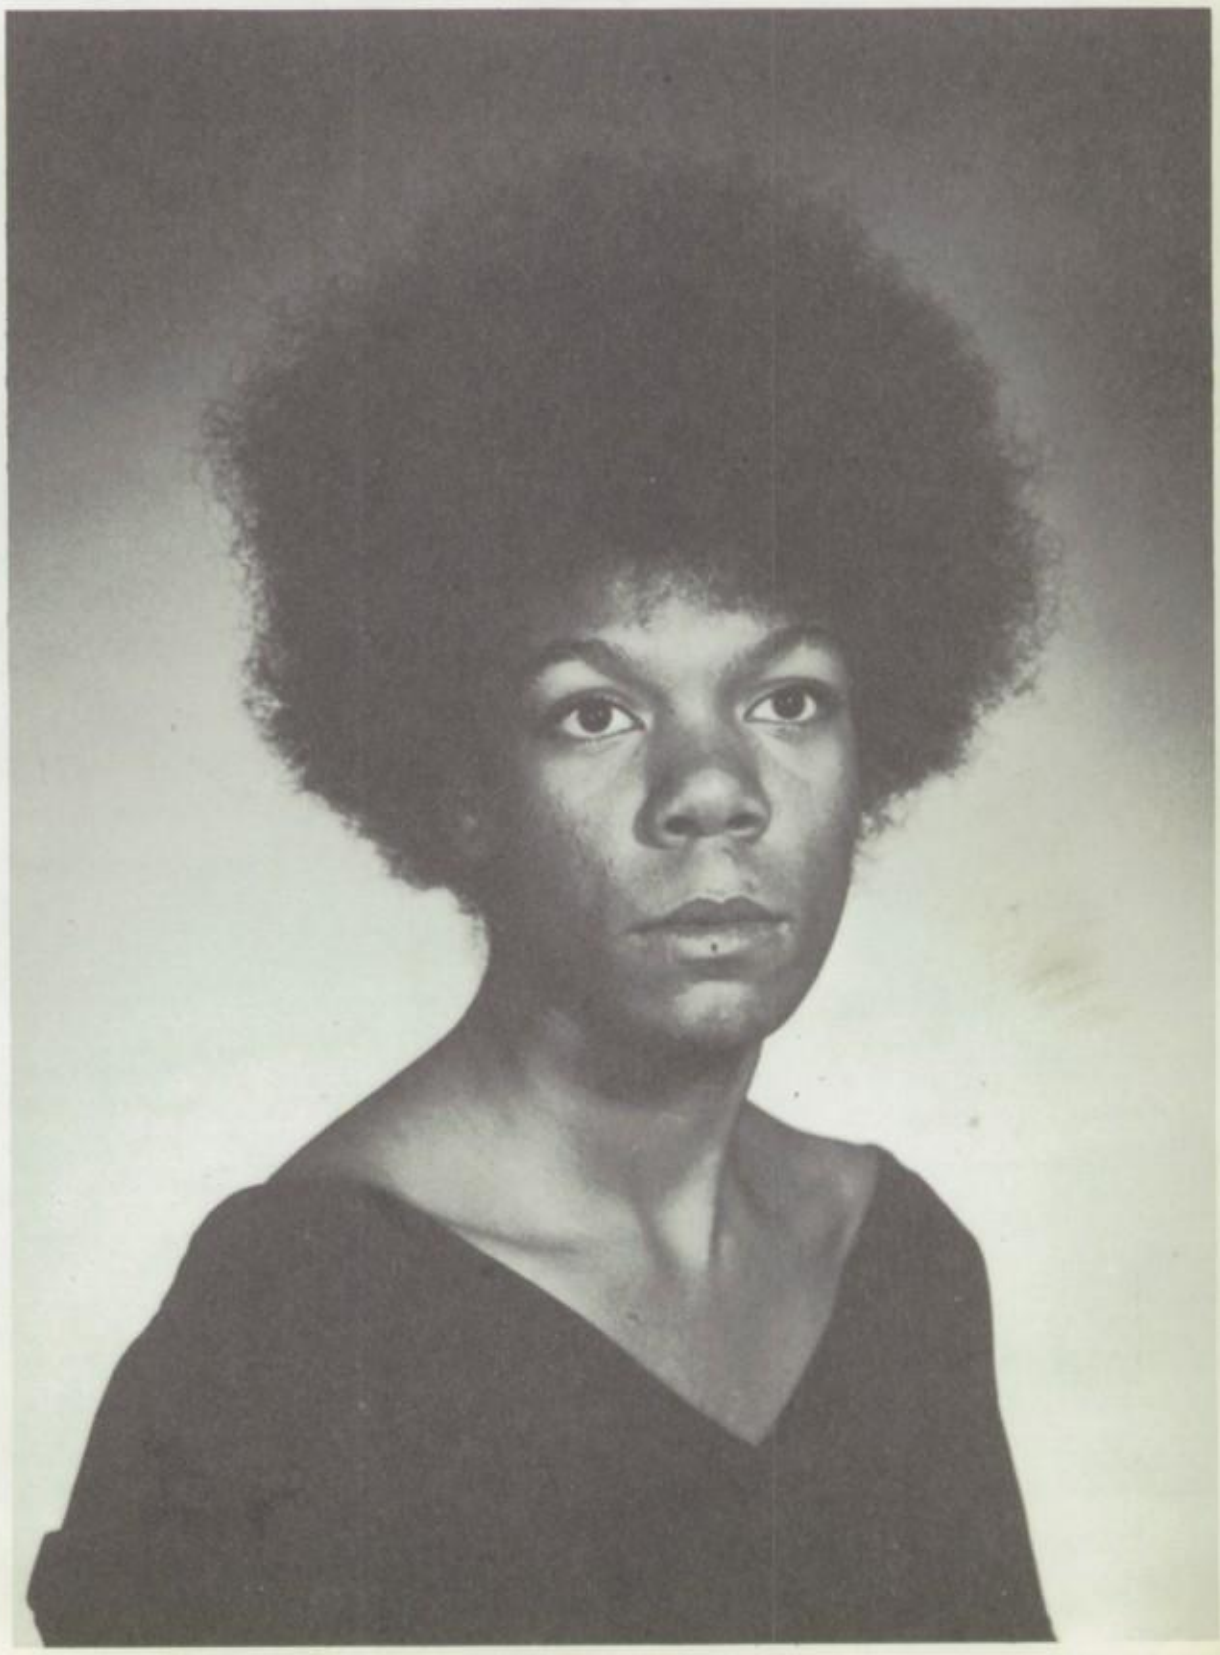
Gary Graham

1953-1974

Stellina

Hagar

1955-1973



This page is dedicated with fondest memories to Stellina Hagar.

Stellina was a Central graduate in 1973. She was a quiet and very serene person who participated in Senior activities and was also a member of the HOURGLASS staff.

Because of her friendliness and cheerfulness, she will be missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

In Memoriam.....

Diane Velazquez

March 12, 1957 to September 12, 1973

This page is dedicated with fondest memories to Diane Velazquez.

Those of us who knew her find ourselves left with a feeling of emptiness. Those that didn't have truly missed a worthwhile friendship.

The reason for her death is of little importance as compared to the question of "why" she had to die. So many of her friends are still asking themselves that very question; many of them may never find an answer.

Diane had many interests enough to have kept her busy forever. She had hoped to move to California and attend UCLA in order to achieve her goals in legal stenography, modeling and acting.

Happiness is what Diane has always stood for and happiness is what the memory of Diane will always bring to us.

To Robin,
I love ya,
Be good in everything you do and get what you want because you deserve it! Think about me sometime
Love,
Yvie

This year's HOURGLASS was produced as a collective effort of volunteers rather than a set staff. The system was a radical departure from the past three years of my tenure as faculty advisor, and I liked it better. People were involved by desire instead of by chance of programming and a hasty decision in their junior year. The new plan does present some problems though in giving credit to those who deserve.

It would seem at first glance that the list is huge, but some of the contributions were less tangible than others. All were necessary, and all are appreciated, but how do we list? Who's first, but then again why not someone else? I'm stumped. And so in alphabetical order, with rough tagging of apparent functions, the HOURGLASS 74 was produced by:

As-Salaam-Alaikum

may Allah (God) bless you with success and happiness in the coming years you desire it. For the short while I've known u I've enjoyed your friendship and will cherish it forever. You are a deep person one who tolerates, reasons and understands situations. So my dear sister strive for that which will uplift you as a Black women and to help uplift your nation. you are strong willed so you'll attain this.

As-Salaam-Alaikum

Robin

In the time we've spent together, there was always the dread of the moments we'd be apart.

Thank you for putting up with me; it's no easy job. If ever you think back about me, be kind baby.

I shall love you always for all you help (dramatic though it was) and all your Beauty.

Love

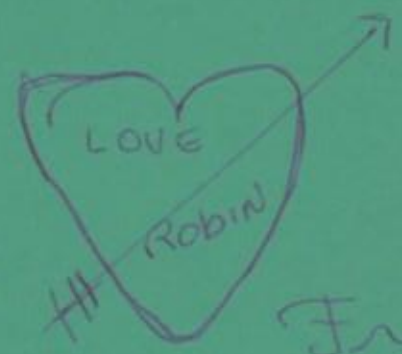
you

To Robin

My very first love; we had some fun times together some I will always remember because first love is sometimes always the last.

You are indeed a hell of a lovely beautiful slick chick.

Best of luck and success.



From a dear heart

Love Always

To Robin,
It was nice knowing
you this last year at Central.
You're the sweetest black girl
I've ever known. & if you weren't a little over-laked
I'd swear you were Italian.
I'll miss you very much and I'll probably see you at Central one of these days.
